

MEET THE CREW.

BRETT.
CAPTAIN
AUSTRALIAN

Captain Brett hails from the sunny shores of the Gold Coast, Australia. With its golden sandy beaches, world class surfing and winding waterways, there was no doubt that Brett would master all water sports and eventually become the captain he is today.

As a natural leader he excelled as a sailing, waterskiing, and wakeboarding instructor. This led to him becoming a water sports manager at a 5-star hotel in Whitsundays on the Great Barrier Reef. As his love for the water progressed so did his interest in boats which led to him becoming a super yacht, Captain. He now has over 28 years of experience working on 30 – 80-meter yachts all over the world.

Brett joined Big Sky in the beautiful South Pacific. The amazing waters and picturesque cruising enable him to continue his quest to make guests' holiday dreams become a reality.

When he is not aboard Big Sky, Brett returns home to his family in the hinterland region of the Gold Coast, to spend time with his young family, going boating on the same waters he grew up on, walking the golden beaches, and making sandcastles with his boys.

BRADLEY.

CHIEF MATE

ENGLISH/SOUTH AFRICAN

Bradley was born and raised in Durban, South Africa. He spent his younger years playing sport, being a lifeguard and surfing. He has always been passionate about being in the ocean.

After school Bradley pursued a career in football, he played in the top tier leagues, playing semi-professionally for four years. He then immigrated to the United Kingdom to continue his dream and experience life in a new country; over the years he was approached by a friend in the UK about yachting and thought how great the industry would be for him. Bradley has been in the industry since 2018 and has never looked back, the thrill of cruising to new places and meeting many likeminded people from different back grounds is what keeps him going.

ANTHONY.

CHIEF ENGINEER

AUSTRALIAN

Ant is Big Sky's cheekiest crew member — the one whose laugh carries across the deck and whose constant jokes keep everyone smiling. Known for a bit of harmless mischief, he brings a light, easy energy that makes life onboard more fun for crew and guests alike.

A marine engineer with superyacht roots since 2003, Ant progressed to captain, running extensive charters across the Great Barrier Reef, Northern Territory and Kimberley's, and completing a full circumnavigation of Australia. Now back in engineering, he's focused on technical mastery and reliability at sea.

Currently spending time in the South Pacific, he's happiest fishing, out on the water, and wherever the ocean sets the pace.

SOPHIE.
CHIEF STEWARDESS
BRITISH

Sophie grew up in Liverpool, UK — the legendary home of The Beatles — so it's no surprise she'll happily burst into song at any given moment. With a family full of performers, her love for musicals was inevitable. Her family would say she could sing before she could talk, and she's always loved entertaining people — whether that's through themed parties, creative cocktails, or simply a good chat.

Before life at sea, Sophie was a qualified hairdresser with over 10 years of experience. But five years ago, she swapped her scissors for the sea and hasn't looked back since.

Today, she channels her creativity into crafting inventive cocktails, designing elaborate table decorations, and throwing unforgettable parties. Whether it's a relaxed sunset drink or a full-blown celebration, Sophie loves making every moment extra special and creating experiences guests will never forget.

REMI.
CHEF
AUSTRALIAN

Rémi was born and raised in Toulouse, in the south of France, where he studied hospitality and culinary arts. After graduating, he worked to fund his first journey to Australia. He spent two years in Sydney, improving his English and gaining valuable international experience.

Upon returning to France, Rémi worked for four years in Paris in several Michelin-starred restaurants, refining his skills and deepening his passion for gastronomy. His travels then led him to Buenos Aires, Argentina, where he discovered new Flavors and culinary influences.

Since 2017, Rémi has been living in French Polynesia, where he entered the yachting industry. He takes great pleasure in sharing the techniques and experience he has gathered throughout his career and travels. Last year, he became the proud father of a little boy, whom he hopes to raise in this beautiful island paradise.

STEFANO.

BOSUN

SOUTH AFRICAN/ITALIAN

Stefano comes from Cape Town, where the wind and waves of the Cape of Good Hope naturally led him to a life near and on the water. After years of lifeguarding and hobby sailing through his teenage years, he qualified and worked as a dive guide for 2 years, before being brought into a sailboat delivery which quickly cemented his passion for yachting and offshore cruising. Stefano has been in the industry for 5 years. Stefano finds fulfilment and growth through being the best bosun possible, always striving to create a healthy, dynamic and efficient environment on deck. When not running the deck, Stefano finds himself spending his time surfing, playing guitar, learning languages and studying for his officer's ticket.

NATASHA.

DECKHAND

AUSTRALIAN

Natasha was born in a small coastal town on the east coast of Australia, where she spent her childhood camping during school holidays, never far from the ocean. In her early adult years, she explored a variety of roles including retail, bartending, barista work, waitressing, and even a short stint as a wedding planner!

Natasha enjoys any activity that involves sunshine and the outdoors, with her favourite being an early morning walk followed by a coffee.

While her previous experiences helped shape her strong work ethic and people skills, she soon realised she was craving something more. That's when yachting came into the picture. Combining her hospitality background with a love for the water and sailing, Natasha knew yachting would be the perfect fit, offering an incredible career while allowing her to explore some of the most beautiful destinations in the world.

ANGUS.
DECKHAND
AUSTRALIAN

Angus grew up in Tweed Heads, where an active lifestyle shaped much of his early years. A passionate sportsman, he spent most of his time playing cricket, while weekends were often dedicated to fishing and freediving — experiences that sparked his lasting connection to the ocean.

After finishing school, Angus moved to Tasmania to pursue university studies. A year later, he began his yachting career, combining his love for the water with his drive for new challenges and adventure.

He thrives on staying active, whether it's going for a run, tackling a hike, or enjoying a casual swim. Along the way, he has also picked up new hobbies, including horse riding and playing the guitar.

GEORGIA.
SECOND STEWARDESS
AUSTRALIAN

Georgia is from sunny Brisbane, Australia, and grew up in a big, close-knit family where teamwork, laughter, and sharing were a part of everyday life. With a background in hotels and expedition cruising, she developed a deep love for travel, the ocean, and creating memorable experiences for others.

Always curious and eager to learn, Georgia brings a calm, thoughtful energy to her role onboard. Whether she is setting up for a special moment for guests or supporting the team behind the scenes, she takes pride in the small details that makes a stay feel seamless and special. In her down time, Georgia loves reading, baking something sweet, and getting creative with craft projects. She is also a big fan of live music and is always on the lookout for new artists and cozy new venues to discover.

She is thrilled to be part of the Big Sky crew and looks forward to making your time onboard truly unforgettable.

HOLLY.
STEWARDESS
BRITISH

Holly is originally from a small town in Kent, England. From a young age, she was known for cartwheeling and dancing instead of walking. While those days are mostly behind her, she now channels that energy into life onboard. This passion led her to train and coach gymnastics and dance, earn two degrees in dance performance, and tour the UK as part of a professional dance company.

Joining the yachting industry three years ago, Holly quickly fell in love with delivering exceptional service while exploring some of the world's most beautiful destinations.

When off duty, Holly enjoys gorgeous views and spontaneous adventures. She is proud to be part of the Big Sky crew and is delighted to be sharing this time on board with you!
