There's a range of activities and facilities for guests to enjoy, including spa treatments, turtle and iguana feeding, diving experiences and an array of watersports. Secluded and unspoilt, the neighbouring islands in this area are equally as exclusive, with beach clubs, spas and infinity pools looking out across the Pacific ocean.

Land of blissful beaches, it's no surprise that Fiji is a fantasyland for lovers of salt and sea and the beautiful Blue Lagoon doesn't let this vision down. Named as one of the top 50 beaches in the world, it hits full marks for its remote peace, silken sands, and water that captures every shade of green and blue imaginable. Located on Nacula island in the northern reaches of the Yasawa Islands, this is Fijian warmth at its finest. The island also serves up first-class Robinson Crusoe delights with its rugged green backdrop, mangrove coves, and rainbow-bright corals for snorkelling. Fans of the 1980's Brooke Shields film of the same name will be in their element to realize that this is the same blue lagoon that stars on the big screen.

The caverns themselves were also made famous by the 1980 blockbuster, Blue Lagoon, where the emerald waters and limestone walls of the hidden grotto set the scene for romantic seclusion. Charter guests will adore the effects of filtered light playing atop emerald green waters, while the more adventurous on board can choose to discover a second cavern accessed by a secret underwater tunnel. Outside of the grottos, the island itself is a sun-soaked spot of striking
